

Chelsea Sobolik

📍 Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission • June 12, 2022

Today in our missions prayer time, we're going to Washington, DC, to pray for Chelsea Sobolik. She's one of our workers at our Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission there.

Our church supports the Commission — and Chelsea — through our Cooperative Program giving. The Commission's ministry is to put a Biblical perspective into laws and public discussions. That means our church has a voice in Washington through our commission.

Chelsea focuses her ministry on getting Bible values into government policies that relate to children and families. She also serves as a court-appointed advocate for children in foster care, helping assure those kids are well cared for.

All this is more than just work for Chelsea. She was adopted from Romania as a baby. Also, she and her husband, Michael, are adopting a child from India. So we can understand why Chelsea is so passionate about this ministry to which God has called her.

Let's thank God for the ministries of the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission and — especially today — for Chelsea and her ministry representing Christ in Washington.

Chelsea Sobolik

📍 Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission • June 12, 2022

Today in our missions prayer time, we're going to Washington, DC, to pray for Chelsea Sobolik. She's one of our workers at our Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission there.

Our church supports the Commission — and Chelsea — through our Cooperative Program giving. The Commission's ministry is to put a Biblical perspective into laws and public discussions. That means our church has a voice in Washington through our commission.

Chelsea focuses her ministry on getting Bible values into government policies that relate to children and families. She also serves as a court-appointed advocate for children in foster care, helping assure those kids are well cared for.

All this is more than just work for Chelsea. She was adopted from Romania as a baby. Also, she and her husband, Michael, are adopting a child from India. So we can understand why Chelsea is so passionate about this ministry to which God has called her.

Let's thank God for the ministries of the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission and — especially today — for Chelsea and her ministry representing Christ in Washington.